API to announce half-year results on 20 December 2005

14th December, 2005

Integrated healthcare services company API announced it has rescheduled its Half-year results announcement to Tuesday, 20th December, 2005.

The decision to reschedule follows today's announcement of the sale of API's healthcare logistics business in New Zealand.

Under ASX guidelines, API has until mid January 2006 to announce its Half-year results.
